parents' escape

A marriage of form and function, this graceful bathroom is all about the clever details

A blissful refuge from the world (and sometimes the kids!) is the starting point for many couples' ensuites. Featuring luxe fittings, pared-back decor and a sophisticated tone, this bathroom delivers on all fronts, allowing for rest and relaxation.

FLOOR SHOW

Grounding the room's light white feel, designer Melissa Healy of Futari Design used 300mm/square vitrified tiles from Metro Tiles (www.metrotiles.com.au) to accentuate the room's grand proportions. A dose of contrast comes through the Amore Grigio mosaics (from $36.30/300mm sheet), from Metro Tiles Bowen Hills, on walls. As a finishing touch, the Tapis Babylone vinyl rug by Arzu Firuz from Space ($628, www.spacefurniture.com.au) ties into the room's warm palette.

SEE THE LIGHT

Opposite a window, an oversized mirror runs just short of the ceiling to amplify the sunlight streaming in through the windows. Subtle strip fluoro lighting by The Caribou Group (www.caribou.com.au) runs along each side of the mirror. The crowning glory, however, is the modern

JUST ADD WATER

The luxurious Kaldewei 'Vaio Duo' oval bath ($5235) from Reece is the perfect pamper spot. Positioned next to the window, the bath is connected to the outdoors and yet subtly screened from prying eyes thanks to discreet shutters which blend into the walls. Sitting pretty, the elegant Louis Ghost chair by Philippe Starck ($530) from Space ties into the room's modern take on classic elegance.

take on the classic Odette chandelier from Beacon Lighting (a steal at $149), adding a touch of elegance. Visit www.beaconlighting.com.au.

SPOIL YOURSELF

Little details make the biggest difference. The owners adore Reece's Mizu heated towel rail (www.reece.com.au) on the wall. Statement pieces in their own right, Reece's White Stone 'Om' basins ($587.46 each) and Mizu mixers ($361.79 each) sit aloft ample storage space.
